

Label Manufacturers Association says again: "the best is DGS"

This year, the winner is the same

The winner has not changed this year at the label press competition held by Label Manufacturers Association (LMA). DGS Press Technologies Inc. won first prize in the category of flexography press.

DGS Press Technologies which celebrates 14th year in the sector presents solutions in the labelling and barcode systems to her customers that are more than 500 and comes from different sectors. After getting the championship award of 2013 among the countrywide labelling firms at the competition held by Label Manufacturers Association, DGS won first prize in the flexography category this year again, by the "Sapanca Lacivert" product and proved that she is "the best". This year, the firms competed in eight categories with 154 kinds of labels at the 11th National Label-Printing Contest.

The flexography press is a distinguishing category for the expertise on the press technologies. The flexography press is used for pressing on paper, film and pet materials, and also differs from the other press technologies by the difficulties and specialties in the pre-press process. DGS produces self-adhesive / non-adhesive, pressed / unpressed labels by the flexography technology, and also performs applications of enriched products. In order to meet the different needs of customers, DGS continues to budget for the R&D activities, generate special solutions with possessing production technology, graphical design activities, sense of quality and professional team. She puts her signature under the labels of leading trademarks and products of Turkey.

On Press Technologies of DGS:

DGS Press Technology is established in 2000. In the year 2002 it started to produce self-adhesive and pressed labeling in the factory in Maltepe. DGS Press Technologies have the certificate ISO 9001 Quality Management System in 2007 March. In November 2007 "EFQM - Committed to Excellence" is certificated by Kalder.

DGS management system and total quality management practices are always carried out in the same ways. DGS Press Technologies has been using the total quality management method for pretending the future, innovations, working for sustainable growth since 2007. In November 2012 DGS has a new certificate "Recognized for Excellence" by an exterior assessment / audit from Kalder.